Join us to learn how Experian helps the public sector by providing information solutions regarding:

- Credit information - In-depth information on three billion consumers including bill payment history, loans, current debt and other financial information, addresses, arrests, suits, bankruptcy for investigative services, benefits eligibility, and employment screening, etc.
- Business information - Robust, third-party-verified data on 166 million businesses and business owners – tradeline, collection, public record, corporate linkage, and demographic information – includes 99.9 percent of all U.S. companies, especially small and midsize.
- Fraud detection and prevention - Authenticates user identities and application data for program eligibility, benefits and credentialing and reduces and monitors fraud risk.
