

Justifications to Use FEDLINK

FEDLINK has 50+ years' experience streamlining procurement for commercial information products and services for federal agencies. We are a revolving fund (Section 103 of Public Law 106-481 (2 U.S.C. 182c)) and follow the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) and the rules and procedures of the General Accountability Office, Office of Management and Budget, and U.S. Treasury.

Why use FEDLINK?

➔ Reduce your workload and increase efficiency

- » Our team of in-house experts manages your procurement for you. FEDLINK will compete, evaluate, and award orders off our pre-negotiated Indefinite Delivery/Indefinite Quantity (IDIQ) contracts on your behalf.
- » Access 100+ vendors for eResources, preservation and library support services, books, and serials.
- » We assign an experienced librarian/contracting officers' representative (COR) to assist you with requirements development and monitor contract performance; a contracting officer to execute contract actions in accordance with the FAR; and expert financial staff to pay invoices and track spending for you.

➔ Know you're getting the best price with FEDLINK's discounts

- » FEDLINK's eResources IDIQ pricing is discounted up to 68% off vendors' commercial list prices.
- » FEDLINK customers typically receive added discounts at the order level.

➔ Fast turnaround so you can use money late in the fiscal year

- » Place orders into the fourth quarter to maximize end-of-year funding.
- » New eResources orders under $350,000 are awarded in 45 days or less.

➔ Diminish your risk of bid protests

- » From FY2020 through FY2024, FEDLINK received one bid protest, which was withdrawn three days later and not sustained. During the same time period, the General Services Administration (GSA) reported 70 bid protests, including six sustained protests.¹

¹ U.S. GSA Types of Protests